Today’s Martyrs

Resources for understanding current Christian witness and martyrdom

Weekly Commentary - 2020-04-19 through 2020-04-25

Is there a war against Christians? Yes, quite literally in some places.

In our report this week (click here to read in full) there is an account of Myanmar Air Force bombings of Christian villages. The government claimed that separatists from neighboring Rakhine state had crossed the border into Chin state and occupied the villages, but no one was able to confirm that. Chin state is 75% Christian.

The Myanmar army has pushed Muslim separatists from Rakhine state across the border into Bangladesh where they , their families, and other victims of repression have filled refugee camps. There are a handful of Christian converts among these refugees: a Christian pastor and his 14-year old daughter were abducted by their fellow tribesmen, and it is feared he is dead and she has been forced into an Islamic marriage.

We also have stories from Iran and the Cuban vacation island paradise. Please continue your prayers.
