

Today's Martyrs – March 1915

Monday March 1, 1915

March 1915, date unknown

United Kingdom: London

Rev Edward Lyttelton (aged 59, Headmaster of Eaton College, gave a homily on “loving your enemies” in which he said that the postwar peace with Germany should be just and not vindictive, drowned out by angry parishioners who stood and sang ‘Rule Britannia” , resigned the following year)
