China: Hunan province

UPDATE: Authorities detained 14 Christians on August 7 2014 in a crackdown on unregistered churches following the stabbing death of a woman in a McDonalds by members of the Church of the Almighty God cult, all released on bail

Ning (reported on pressures on Christians "The [authorities] don't allow the church's worshippers to gather together, saying that our house church is not certified. They say we can gather together, but it must be at a Three-Self church...All together, there should be more than 10,000 worshippers in these counties. Now, they can only get together in threes or fives. The electricity for the worshippers was cut, and the eldest worshipper is 81. From Aug. 22 until [Sept. 2], more than a week has passed, and they have spent nights in darkness")

Yu (said "There is minor persecution on gatherings of small groups. They simply brand us whatever they can think of and call us an evil cult when they really should conduct an investigation before they say so")

Gunmen rob residents of a Christian village as they leave it, two cousins shot

Ernst Kamel (cousin of Eid Gendy, shot, left for dead, said "They were ambushing anyone from our village, as all the residents of our village are Christians, to attack him and rob him. The Christians in our village are targeted...Also after our incident the security forces deployed across the village for four days. After they had left the village, the Islamic gangs came back to our village carrying the weapons, terrorizing the Christians, imposing extortion money on them amid a state of indifference and complicity by the police")

Eid Gendy (cousin of Ernst Kamel, shot dead)

Fr Mossa Shaker (said "just a few days after the incident of the shooting of the two Copts, some armed masked Muslim thugs stopped a pickup-truck owned by a Christian man loaded with mango fruit. They seized his pickup-truck and 500 Egyptian pounds from the owner. The Christian residents of Muharraq Monastery village are living in a state of tyranny, bullying, and oppression by the Islamic gangs of three neighboring villages called Alaghima village, the Great Manshiyya village, and Khashba village without any intervention from the police to protect them")

Nigeria

Rev Samuel Dante Dali (husband of Dr Rebecca Dali, UPDATE: wrote that in the previous week “Boko Haram violence has been getting worse every day, and our members are fleeing the area by the thousands. Recent attacks in Borno and Adamawa states where our churches are located have seen Boko Haram take over the Army base. As a result, about 350 Christians have been killed...Every night at the EYN headquarters, our staff and their families go to bed with hearts bound in fear for their lives. This has forced them to be prepared to flee at any time of the night in an event an attack occurs during the hours of darkness”)

Dr Rebecca Dali (wife of Rev Samuel Dante Dali, UPDATE: wrote “We are still under turbulence because of Boko Haram – last week they captured a lot of villages in the Madagali areas. Five days ago they overcame the soldiers, occupied the army barracks, and killed more than 350 Christians. Yesterday and today [Sept. 5 and 6] the Boko Haram insurgents were in Gulak, killing a lot of Christians...[A pastor in Gulak] told us that they vandalized the church and his own property. He also said the gunmen killed a lot of Christians who are from Shuwa, Michika, Watu, and others...We are closing Kulp Bible College for now. Pray for us please”)

Nigeria: Gulak

Nigeria: Maiduguri

Bishop Oliver Dashe Doeme (UPDATE: reported that at least 90,000 Catholics were displaced by Boko Haram)

Nigeria: Abuja

Fr Patrick Tor Alumuku (UPDATE: said “Several churches are in ruins and tens of thousands, mainly Christians, are running to escape Boko Haram. I spoke to priests in Maiduguri who speak of terrifying happenings. Boko Haram is determined to eliminate every sign of Christian presence...Unfortunately a good number of these displaced persons cannot escape from the combat areas and getting humanitarian aid to them is very difficult. Only people outside these areas can be reached by assistance. If a city like Maiduguri with a population of more than one million were to be attacked by the Boko Haram offensive, the result would be an extremely serious humanitarian disaster”)

United States – Illinois: Chicago

Cardinal Francis George OMI (wrote "...many Catholics in the American colonies thought their life might be better in the new country than under a regime whose ruling class had penalized and persecuted them since the mid-16th century. They made this new country their own and served her loyally. The social history was often contentious, but the State basically kept its promise to protect all religions and not become a rival to them, a fake church. Until recent years...Swimming against the tide means limiting one's access to positions of prestige and power in society. It means that those who choose to live by the Catholic faith will not be welcomed as political candidates to national office, will not sit on editorial boards of major newspapers, will not be at home on most university faculties, will not have successful careers as actors and entertainers. Nor will their children, who will also be suspect. Since all public institutions, no matter who owns or operates them, will be agents of the government and conform their activities to the demands of the official religion, the practice of medicine and law will become more difficult for faithful Catholics. It already means in some States that those who run businesses must conform their activities to the official religion or be fined...")

Fr Amado Baranquel (UPDATE: said most Christians were afraid to leave their homes because they feared abduction “There’s much lawlessness now, and we have no protection or security. Most Masses are having to be celebrated in private houses and apartments like in ancient times...Everyone is asking what will happen. But there are now two governments, so we don’t know who’s running the country and don’t see any way out. For now, we’re trapped and helpless here and needing help from someone who can intervene and negotiate for us. But who are they supposed to speak to? Until we know, all we can do is pray”)

Fr Patrick Tor Alumuku (UPDATE: confirmed comments made by Australian negotiator Stephen Davis "Even President Goodluck Jonathan had said there were Boko Haram infiltrators in his government and three years ago a Nigerian senator was named as a possible sponsor of Boko Haram. However there were never serious investigations to ascertain whether or not the accusations against the senator were founded. What emerges now from the press is that it is not so much the opposition but certain politicians of the president's own party who are financing Boko Haram to give the impression that the head of state is unable to guarantee the safety of the people. This is because Jonathan is a Christian from the south and his inside opposition Muslims from the north, do not want him to run again in presidential elections in 2015...The greatest concern is that even if the Muslims were to win the elections, not even they would have control over Boko Haram, because it has become an international organization connected with other Jihadist movements, including the Somalian Al Shabaab and the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria [ISIL]. Boko Haram has proclaimed a caliphate in the area under its control in the north of Nigeria and I doubt they would abandon it because a Muslim has become the President of Nigeria. What was just a small fire in the north of Nigeria threatens to become an enormous blaze in the very heart of Africa")

Bishop Oliver Dashe Doeme (UPDATE: said that 25 towns have fallen to Boko Haram "The level of sophistication and capabilities that these terrorists have attained within five years is very revealing and scary. The mastery and tact with which they fight is unequalled by our military...The near inaction of the government, the lukewarm attitude and the silence of the government is very disturbing. There is a total disconnection between what our so called leaders in Abuja report in the media and the reality on ground...Our people are dying every day and in most cases with no one to bury them decently, they are left to rot; their homes and properties looted; they have become slaves and prisoners in their fatherland, here is a government that cannot safe guard the lives of its citizens...We are sinking fast in the quick sand, let us swallow our empty pride as Nigerians and ask for International assistance in tackling this problem")
