Palestine: Bethlehem

Ekram Juha (director of the mayor's office, commented on the Palestinian Authority's decision to limit the 2015 Christmas celebrations due to the dozens of recent deaths of Palestinians at the hands of Israeli security forces during attacks: "I'm truly disappointed...[Palestinians] have a difficult situation but we've lived with this situation for many years and celebrations have gone on. This is the place where Jesus was born and if you limit Christmas celebrations here you are limiting something spiritual and holy. I can understand limiting celebrations elsewhere, but not here in Bethlehem")

Cuba: Santiago de Cuba

Rev Alain Toledano (said "There is a witch hunt against churches in Cuba at this time, mainly against the churches of apostolic and prophetic ministry. The communists have intensified in their hatred and persecution of the church following the Pope's visit to Cuba and the re-establishment of relations with the United States...I request constant intercession on behalf of the churches in Cuba. In our case, this would be the second time that the racist communists have attempted to evict us from our house, throw us out on the street and demolish our temple, only now their diabolical hatred and fury is directed at other congregations too")

United States - District of Columbia

Rev Andrew White (former Vicar of Bagdad, Iraq, said "On a day after those events in California yesterday, those awful, terrible events, we realize that the destruction of religion is not just over there [in the Middle East], it's here where you are. What we are seeing going on, what we saw in Paris, what we saw yesterday in California, is, as far as I am concerned, the beginning of the third world war. It's unlike any concept of war we may have had before. Society is falling apart. It's not just Iraq that is broken - it is society")

Australia: Concord, New South Wales

Fr Rahal Dergham (parish web site hacked by ISIL, replaced with written threats and beheading videos, said "We have our families still under the threat of ISIL and the majority has been hurt, displaced or raped. I don't think at this stage we have any fear. We've lost everything. They feel a big loss has happened. We're always hoping that at one stage ISIL would be defeated and we would be back to our towns and churches and monasteries and villages and properties, and business as usual. People have lost hope")

India: Arunachal Pradesh state

Toko Teki (general secretary of Arunachal Christian Forum, criticized the RSS paramilitary organization for its complaint of the growth of Christianity in the northeast states “The people of Arunachal are animists and not Hindus, as claimed by RSS. Yet, all the animists have been included among Hindus in census after census. Many of them are becoming Christians. That is why our numbers are growing. The pattern is the same in the other north-eastern states...We not anti-nationals. We are no less patriotic than any other. RSS is trying to generate hostility towards Christians”)

Iraq: Erbil, Kurdistan

Airspace has been closed to commercial aviation for 48 hours, stranding 150 Christian refugees

Fr Douglas Bazi (UPDATE: said “Russia is said to be sending missiles to several targets and therefore the airspace needs to be ‘free’. My people are a little bit disappointed, but they have been waiting for 15 months already and so two days does not make much difference”)

Nisan Hekmat (refugee, said “They told me that travel is delayed for 48 hours. In Iraq this is not unusual. In other countries it may be different but here it’s ‘normal’ to hear good news and bad news all at the same time...It is difficult for us all. Friends and family came to say goodbye and now the journey has been put on hold. We have everything packed and we’ve given away things like rice and oil that other families will need”)

Ramy (aged 22, refugee, said “It’s difficult for me to smile any more, but I want to, because I believe in goodbyes with a smile instead of with tears”)

Pakistan: Islamabad

The Capital Development Authority has announced that it will demolish several Christian-majority slums without the relocation plans that are required by law

Yaqub Masih (mason, cousin of Aamir, said "It is one thing being poor, but things are far worse if you are poor and Christian. Has the government even considered where I would take my family if they put us out on the street?...Our elders have been residing on this land since the inception of Islamabad in 1960. Most of us migrated to this city from other parts of Punjab, mainly Sialkot, Narowal and Faisalabad in search for a better life. But things have never been easy for us")

Aamir (cousin of Yaqub Masih, said "Life is much better for our Muslim neighbors in Islamabad, who at least manage to get better paid jobs, whereas we Christians have no other option but to earn a livelihood from cleaning jobs. Now they want us to just pack up and leave our homes just because they think that we will outnumber the Muslims. This is a ridiculous notion that amplifies the prejudice we have been suffering all these years")

Arif Bhatti (provider for a family of eight, said "There are no equal rights in Pakistan, not for Christians. We have been living in our colony [i.e. ghetto] for the last 15 years, and now they are threatening to send us off in trucks ‘to wherever we have come from.’ But this is our home now, and we don’t have any other place to go”)

India: Mumbai

Sajan K George (UPDATE: said "The denial of justice to Dalit [untouchable] Christians goes against the letter and the spirit of Articles 14, 15, 16 and 25 of the Constitution of India on equal justice, equal opportunities and freedom of religion. It is a tragedy that nearly 75 per cent of India's Christians, some 20 million, belong to Scheduled Caste communities, and are denied statutory and constitutional benefits because of the 1950 Presidential Order. The worst thing is that when a Dalit decides to convert to Christianity, he or she loses all the advantages related to his social affiliation")

Fr Nasir George (said "New threats have given rise to a new wave of fear")

Nusrat Bibi (teacher, said how the city was "a symbol of the spirit of Christmas in the city...[people] decorate the streets, the houses, the churches", but now "everything is empty")

Luke Francis (street vendor, said "It doesn't not even look like Christmas, there are no events, no decorations, no participation by the people")

Xavier Williams (President of Life for All, said "For years, Pakistan has been fighting against terrorism that has hit the streets, squares, schools, mosques and churches. We will continue to pray unceasingly to God for the gift of peace, invoking the strength to overcome difficult moments like this. Terrorism is a challenge that affects us all. Christmas is a message of joy, hope and victory over death")

Rev Ronald John (UPDATE: said “Mahabubnagar District has experienced severe persecution in the last 11 months. Apart from countless minor incidents in the district, there have been reports of severe incidents where churches were torched or vandalized. In one case in Pebber, we saw one of the most shocking incidents of Hindu radicals mercilessly stamping children and women, causing serious injuries. It is the Christian unity that can counter this systematic infiltration of hate by the communal forces in the district”)

Twelve members of an extended Pakistani refugee family are reportedly living under one roof despite one having untreated infectious diseases

Shahrooz Masih (aged 20, brother of Mafia Bibi, in failing health due to tuberculosis and a liver infection)

Mafia Bibi (aged 35, wife of Raju Bashir, mother of Andrew Isaac, Mather Hidden, and Adam Booker, sister of Shahrooz Masih, fled Pakistan after being accused of blasphemy, said "We are very grateful to God that we escaped persecution in Pakistan, but it's been very hard as my family have continued to suffer since our arrival here. Thailand is our only hope for a new life and a future to our children, but with their father detained I don't know what to do. Since my husband's arrest the children are terrified and very easily upset. My brother Sharooz is very sick and we are desperately worried about him as he needs urgent treatment, but we have no way to pay for this. I pray every day that God will move in our situation")

Guo Yongfeng (UPDATE: spoke on the government's coercion of a landlord to terminate the lease of a house church "...they must unconditionally move out by January 2016. If they don't move out, [the officials] could carry out enforcement methods...There are many churches that have registered, but there are also other house churches that refuse to register. However, they suffer the government's [persecution]. It is more than they can bear; they don't have any means to go to the [correct government] departments and register. Some are churches that have more than 10 or 20 people. They all must complete the registration and become Three-Self churches. If we, [activists and dissidents], go to a church or a house church, they will be asked to close. Furthermore, I am not permitted to go to the church that takes the initiative to greet me. Shenzhen's Domestic Security Protection Bureau said to me, 'You cannot go to any house churches right now, [but] you can go to a Three-Self church")

Patriarch Ignatius Ephrem Joseph III Yonan (UPDATE: said "Most victims were young people willing to welcome the New Year with hope and joy. In tears and gloomy hope, Christians of Qamishli welcomed 2016...It was a sinister message the terrorists wanted to send to the Christians of this city, sowing death and tears...a message of horror...We pray to the Lord to end this tragedy: Enough of this terrorism, enough is enough")

Patriarch Ignatius Ephrem II (aged 50; UPDATE: wrote "The old people weep, the young are losing hope and the children's joy is wiped away...The enemy of humanity is spreading its power everywhere in our beloved Middle East, seeking to destroy the homes of the children of God and to lead them astray. What god do these suicide bombers worship? What religion do they follow? They use blood, slaughter, and killing as a way to please their god. Where are the people of good conscience to act against these attacks? Is it not time to wake up from their deep sleep and to do all that is possible to protect the remaining people in this region, whose sole concern is to live in peace in their homeland? Is it not the fit time to unite and collectively fight all forms of terrorism and extremism?")
