Ireland

Niamh Uí Bhriain (Life Institute; UPDATE: reported to have commented on government threats to seize Catholic hospitals if they continued to refuse to perform abortions and to force doctors to make abortion referrals "Minister [for Health Simon] Harris has already said he will try to force doctors to take part in the abortion process by insisting that they must refer for abortions, despite the opposition of the National Association of General Practitioners [NAGP] who represent the vast majority of family doctors...This small-minded bullying may well backfire on the Minister. GP services are in crisis because there simply aren't enough doctors in general practice in Ireland, and this is set to worsen as record levels of doctors emigrate and others retire...There are many pro-life doctors who will move to a different area of medicine if Harris tries to force them to refer one of their patients – the preborn child – to be killed. If these GPs, and some Catholic hospitals, are forced out of service by bully tactics on abortion, then already hard-pressed patients will suffer the consequences...That may well be the price the people will be forced to bear for yet another failure of a Minister for Health who seems fixated on abortion instead of real healthcare")

India

AP (convert at aged 38, Afghan citizen, shot in the leg during a November 2014 Taliban attack on an underground church in Kabul, hospitalized, arrested, fled the country to India; UPDATE: reported to have suffered persecution from other Afghan refugees)

SI (aged 30, recent convert, Afghan refugee, reported to fear persecution from other Afghan refugees)

India: Bulandi village, Jounpur district, Uttar Pradesh state

Durga Prasad Yadav (criminal complaint lodged against him)

India: Sonapat district, Haryana state

Sajan K George (UPDATE: described how a number of families that had recently converted to Christianity were called before an ad hoc village committee and questioned about their conversions: "[The village chiefs] did not appreciate the choice of families and call it 'evil'. They also claim that members of society are not allowed to convert to other religions and that those who have decided to change their religion will have to retrace their steps and explain their reasons. Then they said that the conversions carried out in secret will not be tolerated...a committee of 11 members was convened to investigate the reasons that led families to conversion...Often the community imposes [these meetings] to maintain the discipline of those who transgress tradition. This has the effect of weakening vulnerable Christian families who want to embrace Christ as our Lord and Savior...four families have presented the necessary documents [a declaration by the priest and countersigned by the individual faithful who certifies that the conversion was a free choice and not imposed], while other families are preparing them...[Those Christians who] challenge the diktats of the community are eventually subjected to marginalization and social boycott. The same happens in the states of Chattisgarh and Jharkhand, where Christians are forced to face the agony of exclusion. The trauma of ostracism by the family is difficult to cope with and even the protection of civil laws does not provide adequate support for the victims")

India: Thangam colony, Anna Nagar district, Chennai, Tamil Nadu state

Rev Sam Raj Kumar (complained of the demolition of a wing of his church to widen a road: "The church has been here for 50 years. The High Court of Madras [the ancient name of Chennai] still has to announce the verdict on the demolition and instead the demolition has been carried out all the same")

Sajan K George (UPDATE: said after the church wing demolition "in the area there are several [Hindu] temples built in the middle of the road and the traffic is diverted on purpose. The sentiment [of the Hindus] is respected by the government. Why does not it happen when it comes to Christians?")

Pakistan: Nabipur village, Sheikhpura district

Vishal Masih (aged 18, severely beaten after defeating a Muslim in an arm wrestling match, family beaten, hospitalized)

Pakistan: Waran Chak Balyana village, Kasur district

A mob attacked several Christians in a land dispute, several women were stripped of their clothing

Sagar Masih (aged 10, arm fractured)

Anand Masih (aged 18, lips lacerated, hospitalized, received 8 stitches)

Nasreen Masih (hit on the left side of her head, suffered a concussion)

Bashir Masih (said "A charged mob of over 50 Muslim men, led by Mukhtar Ahmad, a local Muslim, attacked the Christians")

Barkat Masih (said: "Ahmad tried to cultivate a piece of land with a tractor which belongs to the church. The local Christians requested him not to violate court orders, however, Ahmad abused the Christians and passed derogatory remarks against the church, stating, 'Building a church is nonsense.' Within no time, Ahmad's armed companions attacked the Christian men, women, and children with arms and sticks. They left two seriously injured and other with minor injuries. The mob stoned the under-construction church as well.")

Fr Nadeem Rafique Joseph (aged 40, minimized the religious aspects of the dispute)

Philippines

Fr Edwin A Gariguez (UPDATE: reported to have condemned the issuance of arrest warrants for four former members of Congress for the murder of two farmers more than 10 years ago "This is a common strategy of the government and the military to harass and to silence opposition...[a] deplorable tactic")

Sr Mary John Mananzan OSB (UPDATE: reported to have said "I personally know these four people and they cannot possibly have done what they are accused of")

Indonesia

Nurul (aged 68, convert, widow, reported to have been abandoned by her family for converting)

Pastor Kongkin (reported to have spoken regarding converts from Islam "The numbers are getting bigger and bigger in many parts of Indonesia. There is steady growth. Yes, the number is growing. I think a lot of Muslims are realizing that Islam is false; they see the bombings and terrorist attacks done in the name of Islam, and they wonder 'Is this it? Is this what I want?'. They realize there has to be a better way, and then they find Christ")

Nigeria: Zanwra village, Bassa county, Plateau state

Village attacked by Fulani Muslim herdsmen

Emmanuel Gado (aged 35, son of Talatu Gado, brother in law of Ladi Monday, uncle of Mary Monday, shot dead while trying to rescue his niece)

Ladi Monday (mother of Mary Monday, sister-in-law of Emmanuel Gado, daughter in law of Talatu Gado, choir mistress and former Women's Fellowship Group leader, shot dead)

Mary Monday (aged 5, daughter of Ladi Monday, granddaughter of Talatu Gado, niece of Emmanuel Gado, shot dead)

Gado Monday (aged 7, relative of Talatu Gado, shot, wounded)

Talatu Gado (wife of Gado Andra, mother of Friday and Emmanuel Gado, mother in law of Ladi Monday, grandmother of Mary Monday, said "Prior to the herdsmen attack on us, they had while grazing their cattle around homes and farms threatened us severally. One of them once told me that a day would come that I will weep, that is if I'm still alive to cry. I never knew they'll carry out their threat. Now my heart bleeds...[When the attack began] We all scattered in different directions, rushing out of the house through available exit points. Other family members who were too scared to run out rushed into bedrooms to hide [where they were killed]", survived)

Gado Andra (husband of Talatu Gado, survived the attack)

Friday Gado (aged 25, told his family that their village was under attack, survived)

Rev Biri Gado Sunday (UPDATE: later said "When we returned after the attack in August, we set aside three days for fasting and prayers, and this has helped to ignite the revival fires in our hearts. Other members are scattered in the town of Miango and in the city of Jos. Unfortunately, most houses of my members who survived these two attacks have been destroyed by rains because their owners have been displaced. Truly, my surviving members urgently need help to get back on their feet")

Ireland

The Irish government was reported to have rejected 100% of Pakistani visa applicants who wanted to attend the World Meeting of Families in Dublin with Pope Francis

Fr Anthony Abrax (parish priest in Karachi, Pakistan, rejected)

Samuel Sarfraz (pharmaceutical employee in Multan, Punjab province, three children denied visas, said "This is a conspiracy to mint money from people who are already marginalized and discriminated against in a Muslim-majority country. If the policy was to reject all Pakistanis, why did they accept [nonrefundable] visa and registration fees for the world meeting?... We only wanted to see our beloved Holy Father. The refusal affects our prospects of visiting any European country")

Uganda: Namasuba para zone, Wakiso district

Pastor Moreen Sanyu (struck in the forehead with a stone thrown through a church window, said "I fell down and became unconscious. When I woke up, there were only a few members who surrounded me – the rest of the church members had fled in different directions...The throwing of stones [for months] broke glass windows and destroyed a solar panel, and as well as there was the uttering of abusive and threatening words to me and my church members...I just shared the gospel of Christ and his love for humanity with my Muslim neighbors, and they freely accepted the Christian faith, especially when many sick people that I prayed for got healed”, hospitalized for 2 days, church closed)

China

Fr Shan Ren Shen Fu (alias 'the hermit priest', reported to have written: "Yesterday, a brother priest of mine told me on WeChat: 'Brother, our bishop called me saying to remove the cross and the inscription 'Catholic Church'...There is a parish priest in the diocese who received an order from the organization: the summer catechetical course must be suspended...Then, the Changcheng Biotech vaccine scandal in Changchun exploded. As early as two years ago, with regard to the case of Shandong's 'ineffective vaccine' I wrote at the end of an article: 'In the great debate about 'ineffective vaccines', the most urgent thing to think about is whether this country has lost the truth, and what is the truth that lives in people's hearts? We should find it and retrieve it'...religious faith is the basis for forming people with a righteous conscience. Just as a child is vaccinated to prevent disease, conscience can prevent people from making a mistake in the future. I dare not say that there is no evil among all believers, but we can believe that even a bad believer feels bound in their heart to the law of God...For the child's body there is a problem with vaccines, but for the spirit, the vaccine of faith is rejected. Thus, Chinese children suffer dual damage...As long as the authorities can continue to blindly lie, human life will never be safe...If Chinese children are 'castrated' from an early age and prevented from receiving faith in God that naturally exists in the human spirit, then in a world without God, generation after generation, the tragedies that violate the depths of human consciousness will inevitably continue...")

Iraq

Archbishop Timotheus Mousa Shamani (UPDATE: reported to have said "An international peace-keeping force should be stationed on the Nineveh Plains. We want a guarantee that our freedom and our security will be upheld. We suspect that a group similar to Daesh [ISIL] will evolve in future, whatever it may call itself...This summer is very critical for us. We must make every effort to rebuild these villages. The Iraqi government has already told us that it has no money and will not be helping us. Without the help of church organizations such as Aid to the Church in Need we Christians would not have survived here")

United States - North Carolina: Fort Bragg

Major Scott Squires (U.S. Army chaplain, recommended for disciplinary action on or before April 19, 2018 after a same sex couple attempted to register for a marriage retreat and he attempted to find another chaplain to take his place, issued a statement: "I was shocked the investigator concluded that I should be reprimanded for doing something I'm required to do under Army regulations and my endorser's [church's] rules. I hope the Army sees that I was simply following Army regulations and the tenets of my church"; UPDATE: an Army investigator was reported to have recommended that he be charged with dereliction of duty, would face up to six months' imprisonment if convicted)

Congressman Douglas Collins (U.S. Air Force Reserve chaplain, reported to have issued a statement: "Americans' right to freedom of conscience is Constitutional and non-negotiable. With that in view, the law requires each chaplain to fulfill their duties without violating their conscience or the tenets of the specific faith-group that endorses their chaplaincy. Unfortunately, Chaplain Scott Squires is being subjected to a meandering investigation that could set a precedent for stripping all chaplains of their fundamental legal protections")

India: Khunti, Jharkhand state

Pastor Jidan Herenz (aged 55, husband, father, member of the indigenous Adivasis people, charged in March 2018 with sedition and other crimes, fled into the jungle; UPDATE: granted bail, said "It worries me, it is difficult to gather as a church, and several false cases have been booked against me. There is severe opposition, threats, but the ministry must continue...It's a miracle that I have been granted bail by the High Court. Everybody I met after moving back to Khunti told me the allegations are very serious, and they never thought that I can be free...The six months spent in the forest sharing the gospel, and in prayer and worship, were fruitful and joyous, and the bail is a result of the Lord hearing our prayers. The Lord raised a church there")

Pastor Zacharias Purthi (reported that RSS paramilitaries have been behind the charges against Pastor Jidan Herenz: "He was never involved in those matters [Adivasis tribal politics]. As pastors, we are busy in the ministry and pastoral duties, and he or me, we never showed any interest in the local politics")

Because, now it's clear to all, including the prison authorities, judges, lawyers and my fellow prisoners, that I am in prison because of my faith in Jesus Christ. This will serve to further advance the gospel. Therefore, first of all, I bless those who have persecuted me and put me in jail, and I hope one day the truths of His word, which is able to build everyone up, will save them. Secondly, I thank God in perfect joy and peace for considering me worthy to be here because of my faith in and witness to Jesus Christ. I trust the almighty God who is able to bring the dead to life, and I eagerly await His return. He can preserve me and keep me firm")

Fr Amado Picardal (abandoned his hermitage after a likely six-man death squad on motorcycles with covered faces appeared at his monastery, apparently in retribution for his opposition to extrajudicial killings of drug suspects, said “That was usually the time I would go out to the supermarket and the coffee shop. I immediately concluded that they were the death squad and I was the target. Had I gone out, there would have been no escape for me...I am ready to accept martyrdom if they catch up with me, but I do not seek it nor do I make myself an easy target. Thus, I have decided to temporarily vacate my hermitage up in the mountain and continue to spend my life of silence, solitude, prayer and writing in a more secure location. I will continue to speak out against evil in society through my writings and will fast and pray that the Lord will deliver us for evil.”)

Philippines: Manila

Bishop Pablo Virgilio David (UPDATE: said in a homily directed to supporters of the extrajudicial killing of drug addicts and couriers: "the cries of the bereaved families of victims have been heard on the throne of Mercy... You have been weighed and have been found wanting, therefore your names will be written on the walls of the deepest recesses of the underworld. Woe to you who claim to be waging a war against illegal drugs but are killing its victims instead of saving them... Who gave you the right to pass judgment on people who are sick? You claim to care about the future of young people in this country. What future awaits them if they end up dead on a street alley after a 'legitimate' police operation?... [To you who] just stand by and watch while the masked killers kill their targets in broad daylight, how long has it been since your consciences died?")

John Elvin (aged 48, nurse, husband, father of three including Vikram John and Sunil John, home attacked by Muslims who threatened them with death if they did not leave, beaten along with his sons after he attempted to file a police report, hospitalized, released, no police report filed)

Vikram John (aged 25, son of John Elvin, engineering student, beaten, hospitalized, lost sight in both eyes, will have to leave the country for surgery for any chance of recovery, said "I can't believe this has happened to me. I was going to complete my studies in civil engineering this year and now that opportunity has been taken away from me. After completing my course, I had a job lined up with a large firm but the stable future I saw before me is now fraught with uncertainty. I have done nothing to deserve such treatment I only stayed faithful to God, yet these evil men began to be jealous of the success of our family and the hatred they have for our faith boiled over. I am unmarried and few women will want to marry me now what is left of my life will now be very difficult. I know God will help me through these difficult times and I seek him in prayer daily only He can save me from my dilemma")

Sunil John (aged 23, 'severely' beaten, hospitalized, released)

Anthony Naveed (UPDATE: Provincial Parliament Member, visited Vikram John in the hospital, helped file a police report)

China: Henan province

Pastor Shen Xianfeng (wrote a letter concerning persecution in his province: "These days, I visited many persecuted churches in the cities of Xinyang, Tongbai, Tanghe, and Nanyang in Henan Province. All these churches were assaulted seriously: they [the government] has utilized any [government] department they could utilize with any methods/tricks they could adopt...All kinds of official forces, from public security, armed police units, high ranking officers or low rank ones from the levels of province, county, and village all came out to threaten, to detain, to tear down, and to seal house churches' doors and to hit, break, and rob, [using] all kinds of means to repeat what happened during 'the Cultural Revolution'. What they did was totally not based on the law, and it was improper and unreasonable. They acted in direct opposition to righteous and moral principles...My heart is aching, and I am sad. I am crying out loud. What I cannot figure out day and night is this: do these governing authorities really want to have the war be interior and exterior? To fight the exterior trade war with the U.S.A. and to fight the interior war with vulnerable and kind Christians? What are they thinking about? What is their purpose?...For all kinds of government departments, there are so many other major things they do not want to manage. But they are interested in using political machineries to make themselves the enemies of the Christians with while making trouble out of nothing. Do they have nothing to do? Who gives them the rights? What kind of result do they want to achieve? Are they reaching their plot? Is it worthy to do this?...But alas, so sad, my country!")
