Events – February 2020

Monday February 3, 2020

Nigeria” Chibok county, Borno state

Dauda Iliya (Kibaku Area Development Association, reported on the aftermath of the Boko Haram attacks in the Chibok area following the 2014 abduction of 276 schoolgirls: "...we are being targeted for attacks and annihilation, whether at home or wherever we are. Our people and homelands are in danger. Our homes, farms, barns, and places of worship are destroyed. We are unable to exercise our religious freedoms as we prefer. Our very existence is under grave threat...Of 20 Chibok girls' parents – our kinsmen and women – who are now deceased, 11 were killed during the [subsequent] Boko Haram attacks, eight died of heart conditions as a result of trauma, with those alive subsisting with various degrees of heart conditions and trauma along with their resultant effects...Five days later on the 29th of December [2019] in Mandaragau, 17 Chibok indigenes were kidnapped. We also do not notice much effort by the government to permanently end the scourge of Boko Haram terrorism, and restore peace in our homelands in particular, and the northeast in general, nor the return of our 112 daughters held in captivity for close to six years")

Egypt

Mina Thabet (rights activist, UPDATE: spoke on the situation in Egypt: “The government’s narrative is centered around the theory that the current regime is the savior and protector of minorities from the evil powers of the Muslim Brothers and other terrorist groups. Reality tells a different story...The regime failed to tackle issues of discrimination on many levels and there has been no substantial change in Christians' lives. They are still suffering from the same issues, but the thing is, they can't voice their concerns as they used to following the 2011 uprising")

Tuesday February 25, 2020

Pakistan: Baguyana village, Karsur district, near Lahore

Saleem Masih (aged 22, son of Ghafoor Masih, agricultural worker, chained, tortured, beaten unconscious after rinsing chaff off his body at a tube well, police stood by, hospitalized)

Ghafoor Masih (father of eight including Saleem Masih, said of his son's murder: “They cursed and abused Saleem for ‘polluting’ the water, calling him a ‘filthy Christian’. They then dragged him to their cattle farm, where they chained his hands and feet and continued to torture him with sticks and rods. They also rolled a thick iron rod over his entire body, causing multiple fractures in his left arm and ribs. Saleem couldn’t bear the pain and fell unconscious...When we reached there, we found Saleem lying unconscious on the ground, his face and body bloodied due to the torture. Dogar [the property owner] had apparently summoned the cops himself, and it was evident that he had also bribed them, because they tried to coerce us into ‘settling the matter’ amicably...After much pleading, they allowed us to take Saleem [to the hospital] while the police acted like spectators”)
