Resources for understanding current Christian witness and martyrdom

Weekly Commentary - 2020-11-22 through 2020-11-28

Captives have been freed in Cameroon, Haiti, Niger, Pakistan, and Uganda. Church leaders who have stood up for the persecuted have retired in India and Myanmar. That is much good news in this week's report (click here to read in full).

A Colombian nun continues to be held in captivity in Mali. Christians were beaten - again - in Kenya. The father of a church radio station employee was beheaded in Mozambique, and the employees fled into the jungle with their families as jihadists destroyed the station. Christian charity workers were killed by Mexican paramilitaries, and a nun was wounded alongside them.

Named Christians were murdered in Indonesia and in Uganda. One story is particularly horrific: in Uganda a 'Muslim shaman' has been murdering the children of Muslim converts to Christianity to 'empower' his spells and amulets. The Indonesian security forces in Papua have done much the same, but without the occult dimension.

Please continue your prayers for this suffering world.
